E-Group Update – Mr. Mike Holder
Mike Holder mainly discussed the athletic construction progress. At the beginning of 2007, the hedge fund had $250 million. The account started with $200 million. The projected rate of return was 20%. The actual rate of return was 25%. According to Mike, Athletics is planning to purchase property north to Eskridge. There will be a buffer between the school and the Athletics property. He did speak about the McClosky conflict. According to Mike, McClosky bought the house for $25,000. Athletics offered them $62,500. The McClosky brothers wanted to cause a conflict. Here is a list of the amounts and the projects. The dollars listed are in millions.

- $40 property acquisition
- $170 West End Zone (should be ready for 08-09 season)
- $20 indoor practice facility
$ 30  baseball stadium
$ 15  tennis facility
$ 30  track/soccer facility
$ 10  equestrian

Athletics is rounding this amount up to $350 million. They can borrow against the hedge fund at an interest rate of 5.6%. They could still make 14% on their money. (20% rate of return – 6% interest rate) Mike is hoping they will have enough money to pay off past debts and mistakes. There are three things that need to happen: 1) keep buying property 2) cooperation from city of Stillwater regarding easements 3) Boone Pickens needs to keep making money. Another financing option is to borrow from a financial institution. Bank of America is willing to loan 40% of the money ($100 million) against the hedge fund. By December 2007, $100 million will have been spent.

Mike’s goal in 8 – 10 years is to pay off the loans on Gallagher Iba and Lewis Field and the interest and to have $500 million in the bank. He feels that this can be done because he has done it before with Karsten Creek. In 1973, he wanted to build a championship golf course. He worked to raise the money from 1973 to 1982. He wanted to raise enough money so he could have an endowment fund that would be used to maintain the course. In September 2005, Karsten Creek had $31 million in the bank and the course was paid for free and clear. His ultimate goal is to do the same thing for the Athletic department then work on the future of the University.

Mike then opened the floor for questions. The first question was related to the inability to fill the seats at the football games. The OSU football team needs to improve. Overall, the football team has had a 48% win rate. He believes that administration hasn’t given resources to Athletics to take care of the athletes. The second question related to the high turnover rate when he came aboard. He said that coaches need to win to keep their jobs. The third question dealt with any incentives for staff to purchase tickets. Hopefully, with more seats in the stadium, they can work on something. Hall of Fame will reopen ASAP after construction is finished. Athletics is still working on parking facilities for the fans that purchase the additional seats. A question was asked about the softball stadium. He said that they would probably just work on small improvements. Athletics does not plan on buying any more property at this time. Holder reinforced the idea that OSU is Boone’s passion.

Fall Semester Academic Calendar Recommendation
Carey mentioned that Bill Ivy was supposed to be at the meeting to discuss this issue. However, he was not here. This recommendation basically would take away the Labor Day vacation and take the fall break and add it to Thanksgiving week. It was not discussed at the Faculty Council meeting. After much discussion, SAC voted to oppose this recommendation.
